THE HUMAN CONDITION

ELEVEN TEN STUDIO — Open Call 2027

In 2027, ELEVEN TEN STUDIO will focus on the human condition and three dimensions of contemporary human experience: the relationship between humans and technology, between individuals and society, and between humans and the natural world.

At a time of rapid technological transformation, social fragmentation and ecological uncertainty, we want to explore what it means to be human today. How are our identities shaped? How do we relate to one another? And how do we understand our place in a world that is constantly changing?

We invite artists working across all disciplines and media to respond to one of the following three themes.

01. THE POST-HUMAN CONDITION

Humanity, technology and identity

An exploration of how technology, artificial intelligence, digital environments and systems of control are transforming our understanding of what it means to be human.

Possible directions include identity, the body, authorship, artificial intelligence, surveillance, digital existence, authenticity and the boundaries between human and machine.

02. THE POLITICS OF BELONGING

Humanity, society and relationships

An exploration of how we coexist, negotiate differences and construct our sense of belonging in an increasingly fragmented world.

Possible directions include identity, migration, gender, social structures, power, exclusion, solidarity, collective memory, intimacy and the tension between individuality and community.

03. THE MORE-THAN-HUMAN WORLD

Humanity, nature and coexistence

An exploration of our relationship with the natural world and the other forms of life with which we share the planet.

Possible directions include ecology, climate, biodiversity, materiality, consumption, environmental responsibility, non-human life and the relationship between natural and artificial environments.

All artists, from all over the world, all disciplines.

Application only via link.
